SIXINCH North America announces new sales representative

Furniture sales team expands to Denver, Utah, Wyoming

GOSHEN, IND. - Iconic furniture designer and manufacturer SIXINCH North America, a division of Wieland Designs, Inc., has announced the appointment of a new sales representative in Denver - "the work/life group."

Kristi Nelson, an award-winning manufacturers' rep based in Denver, launched the work/life group in 2017. With more than 13 years in the commercial and contract furnishings industry, Nelson is a seasoned partner to designers, architects, dealers and manufacturers.

"Kristi isn't just an award-winning rep, her personality and creative drive fits the SIXINCH DNA," said Josh Sweazy, SIXINCH Director of Sales. "We're getting a well-qualified partner that will make selling SIXINCH fun and exciting and allow for even more creativity in the regions she represents," says Sweazy.

Nelson has worked with many of the most influential brands in the industry. Several of her projects supporting designers have won industry honors and earned awards from OFS Brands, izzy+ and Martin Brattrud.

In just four years, SIXINCH North America has leveraged innovations in furniture design to develop award-winning product solutions for a range of applications. SIXINCH product offerings include collections with furniture designs by Mac Stopa, David Fox, Rainer Mutsch and Pieter Jamart.

About SIXINCH North America

Founded in Belgium in 2003 by Pieter Jamart and Michel Sels, SIXINCH was born from a passion for innovative materials and progressive design. In 2013, Peter and Michel partnered with U.S.-based Wieland Designs, Inc., a well-respected company in the furniture industry, and expanded the footprint for one of the most talked about furniture brands in the world. The name SIXINCH comes from the space between our ears, a mere 150 mm wide, or six inches. Learn more at sixinchrocks.com.
